

Today we will be traveling back in time to consider the event that helped define the very identity of the people in the Old Testament, Passover.

So, why bother studying a section of Scripture that deals with events that took place literally thousands of years ago in a foreign land to an unrelated group of people dealing with customs completely different than ours? I'm so glad you asked.

The Passover event was so profound that God said that it would be an event that Israel was commanded to never forget (Ex. 12:14).

Can you think of any other event that God commands this level of attention to be given? There is something so pivotal, so fundamental to the identity of His people that to forget its meaning is to offend the very God of the universe. It is crystal-clear that we need to know the significance of this event.

Target Practice:

1. Why does it matter that we take the time to examine sections of Scripture like this?
2. How does it encourage you in regard to your view of God?
3. Explain what the "Passover" means and how would you feel if you were in the home being "passed over?"
4. Which one of the object lessons that was mentioned most impacted your thinking and why?
5. How does the Passover now find its ultimate meaning in the Lord's Supper?
