Teaching Guide

I Peter 3:1-6

The Merriam-Webster's Collegiate Dictionary defines "legacy" as "something transmitted by or received from an ancestor or predecessor from the past." While it could be said that everyone will leave a legacy, in this study we will be considering key components in the construction of a God-centered legacy that expresses itself, primarily, through the family system. However, this study will be more than simply giving you biblical insight or creative ideas to pass on to the next generation; this series is designed to help some of you take specific steps within the coming weeks to begin laying the stones of a God-centered legacy.

Did you complete your homework assignment?

Yes No

I. THE thing to know:

Your personal relationships can never be stronger than your devotion to the Lordship of Jesus Christ.

II. Play your part:

A. The Husband – 3:7 (last week)

B. The Wife

1. The way you _____ – 3:1-2

2. What you _____ – 3:3-4

3. The _____ you _____ – 3:5-6

Target Practice: Use this resource to dig deeper in your personal or family devotions during the week.

Again, review the two basic views of relationship expressed in the diagram Pastor Dan used. How are these two views fundamentally opposed to each other and why? In what way are we all called to submit to one another (see Eph. 5:21). Can you give examples? How are the values of a wife to be reflected in how she acts (see vv.3-4)? Why does Peter talk about the legacy that wives are supposed to consider as they live (see vv.5-6)?
